ARTIST BIO & CURATORIAL CONTEXT

Lethe (Alexandria Chanel) is a Southern California–based contemporary figurative and mixed-media painter. Her ongoing research-driven body of work, You Are Still Inside It, constructs an inward psychological encounter centered on Stalingrad and the Eastern Front. Working from period wartime photographs, testimony, correspondence, maps, and archival fragments, her paintings dismantle and reconfigure surviving traces through layered pigment, impasto, collage, and surface abrasion until singular human presence resurfaces from mass historical erasure.

Visually aligned with Contemporary Neo-Expressionism and archival assemblage—evoking the visceral figurative tension of Francis Bacon, Robert Rauschenberg, and Jean-Michel Basquiat—the works reject nostalgia or ideological heroization, examining trauma, memory, vulnerability, and what remains of the individual within extreme historical events.
